IT reflection

In this assignment I did the basic button and LED code but in the big project I was more confused about the more complicated, so Seb did it more. I feel that we did satisfactory work together and focused more on our skill sets, as Seb is the better coder he took charge in the code while I did more research and assembled the physical components